Representative cases

Commercial Litigation/Intellectual Property

- Mr. Li has represented a Shanghai enterprise in a series of cases sued by a well-known group over unfair competition disputes. Under the premise that the client's affiliated company was subject to administrative punishment, Mr. Li obtained all the accessible evidence, carefully compared the detailed characteristics of the trademarks and products involved in the case, and finally persuaded the collegial panel with the legal facts constituted by all the evidence, and won the lawsuit without any compensation. Some of the cases in this series were selected as one of the top ten typical cases of intellectual property in Shanghai that year

Civil Litigation/Media

- Mr. Li once represented a brokerage company in suing a well-known online platform for the first and second instance cases, and on the premise that the brokerage contract was only effective for two months, the client was compensated for liquidated damages and all of them were executed, and the client benefited more than 5 million yuan from the case
